

Active Characters

The Active Characters book is an published directory profiling the characters currently involved in public sphere of San Andreas.

- Civilians
 - Snaren Daren
 - Jovanni Myers
 - Samantha Myers
 - Timothy Stuart Williams
 - Walt Vick
 - Scarlett Faith Williams
- LSFD Characters
 - Chief R. Garcia
 - J. Adams
- LSPD Characters
 - Shaun Wynkoop
 - Jaxon Wynkoop
- SASP Characters

- Colonel A. Kings
- Adding your character to the directory

Civilians

Snaren Daren

Character is ran by W.Vick - GamingFlamin

This article was originally written on Code 6 Roleplay, it may no longer be accurate on the newer Syndicate Reborn. This flag will be removed once it's confirmed it's accurate.

Snaren Daren is a resident of the Mirror Park neighborhood in Los Santos, San Andreas who has gained notoriety for her public confrontations with local businesses and services. She is often characterized as an entitled, privileged woman who makes unreasonable demands and complaints.

Daren's frequent aggressive outbursts when dissatisfied with transactions or customer service have earned her the local nickname "Los Santos, Karen" on social media. Her tirades typically involve berating staff, asking to speak to managers, and threatening lawsuits or press charges.

Notable incidents include:

- A 2022 viral video showing Daren admonishing a Cluckin' Bell employee for refusing to accept an expired coupon. Daren called corporate to try and have the worker fired.

- Trying to get her new neighbours evicted in 2022 by exaggerating minor noise and parking annoyances to the property manager.

Daren is married to a successful dentist and has not held regular employment herself. She spends many days going business to business looking for petty faults to angrily confront service workers over.

Daren was previously on the board of the Mirror Park Homeowners Association from 2019-2023. However, she was dismissed from the position after being criminally charged.

The HOA determined her conduct brought disrepute and legal liability to the organization. Daren's sense of entitlement led to abusing her position in attempts to coerce and intimidate fellow residents rather than properly representing them. Her ignominious tenure stands as a warning about the dangers of granting power to those motivated solely by grievance.

Her ceaseless searches for validation through victimhood and threats continue causing disruptive spectacles across Los Santos retail and hospitality outlets. Daren has been unsuccessfully banned from numerous establishments due to her stubborn harassment of staff and management.

Jovanni Myers

This article was originally written on Code 6 Roleplay, it may no longer be accurate on the newer Syndicate Reborn. This flag will be removed once it's confirmed it's accurate.

Character is ran by J.Myers | 204 - textost

Jovanni Myers is a highly decorated army veteran who transitioned successfully into a long and distinguished law enforcement career across multiple agencies in San Andreas. His proven leadership capabilities and passion for public service have driven impact from urban police departments to state-wide patrols.

Early Life

Born in 1990, Jovanni spent his formative years in central Los Santos alongside older sister Samantha. He endured the same parental neglect and poverty that shaped Samantha's childhood as their mother battled addiction cycles and their father served prison time.

With no functional parents in the household, Samantha took on parenting duties for Jovanni. She worked tirelessly to provide basic needs for them both while also trying to keep Jovanni shielded from the chaos and dangers around them.

Jovanni witnessed Samantha's struggles firsthand. Her immense sacrifices and protection in turn gave him the security needed to focus on schooling. He found refuge in athletics, excelling on his high school's football team even with minimal guidance or resources at home.

But the volatile environment still left Jovanni yearning for greater stability and purpose beyond Los Santos. At 18, he decided to enlist with the army, following the path Samantha trailblazed by joining the Marines years earlier.

Military Career

The structure and community Jovanni found in the army gave his life the direction it had lacked. Rigorous training quickly toughened both his physical strength and mental fortitude.

Early commendations for sharpshooting skills led Jovanni to pursue Special Forces Ranger training after initial tours. He thrived in the unrelenting physical challenges and technical intricacies of covert operations.

From 2011 to 2018, Jovanni completed five globe-spanning tours with his tightknit Ranger team. The harrowing firefights, battlefield losses, classified missions and trauma bonded the men for life. Jovanni considered them closer than family.

But the constant violence and stress took a heavy toll over multiple deployments. Jovanni lost nearly a third of his comrades in action. The survivor's guilt and grief weighed on him tremendously despite honors earned, like the Expert Infantryman Badge. Jovanni left the army in 2018 with the rank of Captain, an Army Commendation Medal for exceptional service, and emotional scars that would linger. But his time in uniform gave him an abiding sense of purpose and duty.

Law Enforcement Career

Eager to continue serving, Jovanni joined the San Andreas State Patrol in 2019 after returning home. Highway patrol allowed him to utilize tactical training while assisting motorists statewide.

After two years of distinctive service with the SASP, Jovanni transferred to the LSPD's demanding urban environment in 2021. He worked under then-Chief Shaun Wynkoop, responding to violent crimes from shootings to riots that tested his capabilities.

In 2022, Jovanni moved to the Blaine County Sheriff's Office seeking a greater leadership role. His diligence and tenacity combating the county's unique challenges led to rapid advancement.

As a BCSO Sergeant, Jovanni's mentorship and oversight were integral to the continued professionalization of the department. When the SASP sought a new Commander to lead their organization in 2024, Jovanni was an obvious choice.

He guided the state-wide force expertly for over two years as Commander while earning a Master's Degree in Criminology.

Today Captain Myers continues molding BCSO's next generation while enjoying the county's rugged beauty in his off hours. Despite his elevated rank, Jovanni remains an approachable, community-focused lawman guided by selfless service.

Personal Life

Off-duty, Jovanni can often be found at John's Repairs, the Sandy Shores mechanic shop run by his close friend John Adams. Jovanni provides a steadying presence there while learning the trade. He rebuilt his own vintage pickup from scratch in the shop's garage.

Despite the traumas faced, Captain Myers remains defined by selfless service, honor and community values. He aspires to have the same uplifting impact on younger deputies that his sister Samantha had on him growing up.

Samantha Myers

This article was originally written on Code 6 Roleplay, it may no longer be accurate on the newer Syndicate Reborn. This flag will be removed once it's confirmed it's accurate.

Character is ran by J.Myers | 204 - textost

Samantha Myers is a 29-year-old criminal and retired marine living in Sandy Shores, San Andreas. Despite a difficult childhood, Samantha's resilience and determination have led her to success in business and service.

Early Life

Born in 1990 in central Los Santos, Samantha endured a turbulent upbringing marred by parental neglect. With her mother battling addiction and father imprisoned, she became the sole caregiver for younger brother Jovanni by age 12.

The daily struggle for basic needs and protecting Jovanni left little time for school or socializing.

Constantly stressed and sleep-deprived, Samantha dreamed of escape. At 17, she saw enlistment with the Marines as her only path to security while doing something bigger than herself. It was an abrupt but determined departure from her powerless situation.

Military Service

The structure and meaning Samantha found with the Marines gave her life needed direction. She felt part of a true family among fellow enlisted. Rigorous training honed her physical and mental grit.

From 2008-2012, Samantha completed three tours including deployments to the Middle East and South Asia. She saw heavy combat and lost many brothers-in-arms, sustaining both external wounds and deeper psychological trauma. The intensity forged unbreakable bonds with those who endured the same.

Despite the hardships, Samantha was awarded the Navy Achievement Medal for her exceptional conduct under fire. She exemplified honor, courage and commitment even in the hell of war. But no commendation could erase the pain witnessed.

The mental health impacts of Samantha's trauma overseas would only fully emerge later. But the marines did provide invaluable structure, skills and maturity to the young woman.

Return to Los Santos

After completing her service, Samantha returned to Los Santos in her early 20s. She formed a motorcycle club, the Midnight Riders, with fellow vets struggling to adapt. Riding gave them purpose and camaraderie reminiscent of their service days. They became both a makeshift family and an outlet for frustrations with a society that didn't understand them.

It was through connections that Samantha met Liam Cuttel, and learned that he's in the SAS. Their instant mutual attraction led to a passionate but ultimately doomed marriage. A year of turmoil culminated in an acrimonious divorce that granted Samantha ownership of Liam's neglected desert bar property.

Samantha invested profits from selling off Liam's luxury vehicles into renovating the once-ramshackle bar. Her vision, charisma and marine-forged work ethic slowly transformed the aging dive into the bustling Yellow Jack Inn. Despite Liam's mismanagement, she envisioned rebuilding it into a destination and community hub.

Today, Samantha splits time between managing Yellow Jack Inn and working as a mechanic at the Sandy Shores garage. She takes pride in her independence and self-sufficiency. Beneath Samantha's tough exterior remains a generous spirit with wisdom earned through hardship. Her presence enriches the Sandy Shores community.

Timothy Stuart Williams

This character is currently in-active.

Character ran by Unknown

Timothy Stuart Williams is a notable figure known for his diverse life journey. He is the son of Charlotte and Thomas Williams, and his life story is a testament to resilience and determination in the face of adversity.

Government Official - This character holds an elected or appointed government office.

Early Life

Timothy S. Williams, born on January 6, 1997, at King's College Hospital in the London Borough of Lambeth, United Kingdom. From a young age, it was evident that Timothy had autism, but his parents, Thomas and Charlotte, embraced this challenge with unwavering love and continued to support him wholeheartedly. Their commitment to Timothy's well-being was unwavering, allowing him to grow and thrive.

On May 25, 1999, Timothy's life took another turn when his siblings, Mason and Anna Williams, were born. Timothy and Mason shared an inseparable bond during their early years, experiencing life together as brothers. This close relationship would shape Timothy's character in years to come.

Racing Career

Timothy's journey into the world of motorsports began at the age of 6 when he took up karting. His talent on the track quickly became evident as he excelled, eventually clinching victory in both the British Karting Championship and European Karting Championships.

At the age of 13, Timothy transitioned to car racing and entered the Formula 3 World Championship. He consistently ranked among the top three competitors in both seasons before progressing to the Formula 2 World Championship, where he achieved similar success.

Despite his remarkable achievements, Timothy's dream of joining a Formula 1 team remained unfulfilled, leading him to make a significant life-changing decision.

Military Service

At the age of 17, Timothy Williams made a courageous choice to leave his racing career behind and join the British Armed Forces as a Royal Marine. His dedication and determination led him to rise through the ranks, eventually achieving the rank of Corporal. However, his service was interrupted by a devastating tragedy that would alter the course of his life.

Family Tragedy

At the age of 19, Timothy faced the heart-wrenching loss of his parents, Charlotte and Thomas Williams, who were tragically murdered by a notorious crime family in San Andreas, United States. This devastating event marked a turning point in Timothy's life, compelling him to return to his family roots.

Business Ventures

With unwavering resolve, Timothy assumed control of the family business, swiftly expanding its reach and influence within a few short years. His brother, Mason, stood by his side, playing an instrumental role in their joint success. At the age of 22, Timothy's path crossed with Scarlett Jones, an employee at the Williams Group. Their friendship blossomed into a romantic relationship, and at the age of 26, they tied the knot. Their honeymoon in Switzerland marked a joyous chapter in their lives.

Political & Leadership

Timothy Williams ventured into politics, campaigning against violence in San Andreas. His dedication to the cause resonated with the community, propelling him into the political spotlight.

Timothy's commitment to public service led him to run for Governor of San Andreas, securing victory in the election. Simultaneously, Scarlett Jones was elected as the Mayor of Los Santos, further solidifying their influence in the region.

During this time, Timothy extended his family by taking in his cousin, Matthew Williams, who had been abandoned by his parents. Erika Williams, Timothy's partner, played a significant role in co-parenting and supporting Matthew.

Timothy Stuart Williams's life is a remarkable journey of triumph over adversity, personal growth, and unwavering dedication to family, service, and community. His story serves as an inspiration to many, reminding us all that resilience and determination can shape a brighter future, even in the face of tragedy.

Atomic Ownership

Flush with capital, Williams negotiated and acquired debt-laden Atomic, seeing an opportunity to revive the iconic LS brand.

Walt Vick

This article was originally written on Code 6 Roleplay, it may no longer be accurate on the newer Syndicate Reborn. This flag will be removed once it's confirmed it's accurate.

Character ran by W.Vick | GamingFlamin

Walter "Walt" Vick is an investigative journalist and lead anchor at Weazel News, the controversial 24-hour cable news channel delivering reactionary perspectives to viewers across San Andreas.

Vick's early career involved reporting for various local Los Santos news stations before being recruited by Weazel News in 2013. His bold style quickly gained notice.

As lead anchor, Vick hosts the primetime "Just the Truth" news hour, leveraging his confrontational, anti-establishment approach to grill guests and deliver scathing commentaries. Topics focus on crime, corruption, immigration and economic issues.

The show's shameless catering to viewer outrage over nuance makes Vick a polarizing figure, beloved by loyal Weazel viewers but despised by critics. Awards and ethical violations mark his divisive tenure.

Beyond broadcasting, Vick contributes political opinion pieces to Weazel's right-wing web platform. His columns denounce culture, protest movements, unions, regulation and progressive policies.

A staunch traditionalist, Vick rejects notions of unbiased journalism. For him, the media's duty is promoting an agenda, not objectivity. This unapologetic honesty appeals to Weazel's target audience.

Off-camera, Vick leads a flamboyant lifestyle enabled by his half a million annual contract. His social media feeds flaunt fast cars and celebrity antics.

Scarlett Faith Williams

This character is no longer active.

Character ran by gspintel

Government Official - This character holds an elected or appointed government office.

Scarlett's life story is a journey of resilience and strength, shaped by her early experiences and the enduring bonds she formed along the way. Learn more below.

Early Life

Scarlett F. Jones or Scarlett Williams was born on the 26th of February, 1998, at the Royal Darwin Hospital in the Northern Territory, Australia, to Christie Lane and Darryl Jones.

From the moment of her birth, Scarlett's life was marked by the presence of her father's best friend, Alexander, who played a significant role in her upbringing. Alexander acted as a shield, protecting Scarlett from the turmoil caused by her alcoholic and abusive father, Darryl.

Scarlett's deep attachment to her family was most evident in her relationship with her older sister, Maddison Jones, born on April 11, 1995. The three of them, Scarlett, Maddison, and Alexander, shared a profound love for motorcycles, and this common passion became a source of solace and joy in their lives.

Tragedy Strikes

Their world was shattered one tragic night when Maddison was killed by a drunk and high driver while returning home from the cinema. Shockingly, the driver escaped with minimal consequences, facing only a $3000 ticket. Scarlett mourned the loss of her sister, then three months later Christie took her own life, leaving Scarlett to grapple with overwhelming grief.

In the absence of her immediate family, Alexander stepped in as Scarlett's legal guardian. Balancing his responsibilities with an active role in the Australian Army, he did his best to provide for and protect Scarlett during this challenging period.

A New Beginning

In an effort to offer Scarlett a fresh start, Alexander used his savings to purchase a house for them in the United States. Scarlett resumed her education and began rebuilding her life. It was during this transformative phase, at the age of 21, that she crossed paths with Timothy Williams.

Scarlett and Timothy formed a deep connection, spending a significant amount of time together. Their relationship evolved into a romantic one, and Scarlett became an integral part of Timothy's family business.

Scarlett's journey also involved a change in her interests. Over time, her love for motorcycles waned, but she remained deeply committed to her family and her evolving relationship with Timothy.

A New Identity

Driven by a desire to make a positive impact on her community, Scarlett ventured into politics. Her dedication and passion led her to a position of prominence, eventually becoming the Mayor of Los Santos.

At the age of 25, Scarlett and Timothy exchanged vows, and she assumed the name Scarlett Williams. Their union marked a new chapter in her life, as she continued to support her husband's endeavors and build a life together.

Scarlett F. Jones, now Scarlett Williams, is a testament to the indomitable human spirit. Her story serves as an inspiration, showcasing the power of resilience, love, and the capacity to overcome life's greatest challenges.

LSFD Characters

Chief R. Garcia

This article was originally written on Code 6 Roleplay, it may no longer be accurate on the newer Syndicate Reborn. This flag will be removed once it's confirmed it's accurate.

This character may not be active any longer.

Default Page - This page was generated with a finetuned AI for a default page. Manual review is needed and this pages content may change at any time.

Chief "R." Garcia is the Deputy chief of the Los Santos Fire Department (LSFD), overseeing all operations and personnel across the city's sprawling districts. With over 25 years of experience spanning, paramedic, firefighter and administrative roles, Garcia worked his way up the ranks before being appointed Deputy Chief last year. He is the first Hispanic chief in LSFD history.

Known for his even-keeled leadership and dedication, Garcia leads one of the busiest and most high-risk fire departments in the country. His jurisdiction covers structure fires, urban rescue, EMS, hazardous materials, and more. The LSFD 's progressive tactics under Garcia have been lauded for reducing fire-related deaths and expanding community risk reduction efforts. He oversees a $600 million budget and a force of over 2,000 sworn firefighters operating out of 80 firehouses.

Chief Garcia must contend with an array of challenges ranging from staffing shortages to water access issues to the demands of an ever-growing high-rise cityscape. But he is credited with keeping LSFD's response times under national standards.

Early Career

Born and raised in East Los Santos, Garcia joined LSFD in 1997 as a paramedic after graduating top of his class from the San Andreas Medical Institute.

He quickly gained recognition for his medical expertise and cool head responding to challenging urban rescue incidents. When not on calls, he taught paramedic skills at the LSFD academy.

Education:

In addition to his fire service credentials, Garcia holds a Master's degree in public administration. He is renowned for his supportive, hands-on leadership style, often responding directly to major fires alongside his crews. Friends and colleagues describe Garcia as cool under pressure and deeply committed to both his teams and the people of Los Santos. His progressive vision is guiding the LSFD into the future while respecting traditions.

Leadership as Chief

He implemented data-driven hiring practices to diversify LSF D ranks. Garcia also spearheaded a $250 million initiative to modernize firehouse technology and equipment.

Garcia has also prioritized expanding community outreach and improving response times:

- He launched a free home safety inspection program targeting at-risk residents.
- New flexibility in shift rotations has reduced average response times by 3 minutes.
- Recruitment efforts under Garcia have markedly increased.
- His social media presence provides unprecedented public access and transparency into LSF D's lifesaving work.

While managing a $850 million budget and 4,500 personnel, Garcia is keeping LSF D prepared for evolving 21st century demands. His unique understanding of field work and administration has proven vital to leading the department.

J. Adams

This article was originally written on Code 6 Roleplay, it may no longer be accurate on the newer Syndicate Reborn. This flag will be removed once it's confirmed it's accurate.

Default Page - This page was generated with a finetuned AI for a default page. Manual review is needed and this pages content may change at any time.

Ran by J. Adams | Car 1

John Adams is

fighter who has served as the Chief of the Los

Santos Fire

Department (LSFD). As Chief, he oversees all operations of the LSFD's nearly 2,000 firefighters and EMTs that respond to fires, medical emergencies, and other incidents each year.

Early Life and Career

Chief Adams developed an interest in firefighting and public service from a young age. He joined the LSFD as a volunteer firefighter straight out of high school in 1980. Over the next 15 years, Adams rose through the ranks taking on leadership roles of increasing responsibility. His effective management capabilities were quickly recognized by subordinates and superiors alike.

Tenure as Fire Chief

Over the past nine years serving as head of the LSFD, Chief Adams has focused intensely on modernization and implementing the latest technology to improve response capabilities. He secured public bonds for constructing 10 new strategically placed fire stations and transitioning to updated life-saving equipment.

Chief Adams has also made firefighter safety a top priority, mandating key reforms like more extensive ventilation and rapid intervention training. Additionally, he founded a peer support program to help personnel cope with on-the-job trauma. These efforts have led to a significant reduction in annual firefighter injuries and increased availability of mental health resources.

While proud of the progress made during his tenure so far, Chief Adams plans to continue pushing the LSFD to achieve faster response times and introduce innovative practices that translate to even greater public safety for Los Santos residents.

LSPD Characters

Shaun Wynkoop

This article was originally written on Code 6 Roleplay, it may no longer be accurate on the newer Syndicate Reborn. This flag will be removed once it's confirmed it's accurate.

Default Page - This page was generated with a finetuned AI for a default page. Manual review is needed and this pages content may change at any time.

Shaun Wynkoop se

overseeing the Los Santos Police

Department, one of the largest metropolitan law enforcement agencies in the United States overseeing a sprawling city of over 5 million residents.

Chief of Police

As Chief, Wynkoop has prioritized improving LSPD community relations through transparency, bias training, limiting use of force, and investing in de-escalation tactics. He oversees 12,000 sworn officers across 21 divisions.

Managing challenges ranging from budget constraints to violent crime surges and increased public scrutiny in the smartphone age remains a complex balancing act. But Chief Wynkoop has earned respect both within the ranks and from citizen oversight groups for his collaborative, bridge-building leadership style focused on evolution over confrontation.

While leading significant LSPD advancements, His vision and influence continues steering the LSPD through 21st century policing.

Jaxon Wynkoop

This article was originally written on Code 6 Roleplay, it may no longer be accurate on the newer Syndicate Reborn. This flag will be removed once it's confirmed it's accurate.

Character ran by IIDark_VibeZII

At just 28 years old, Captain Jaxon Wynkoop helms the Los Santos Police Department (LSPD) as its youngest leader in decades. His meteoric rise from humble roots exemplifies both LSPD's ongoing efforts to reform its culture and Wynkoop's singular determination to uplift his violence-plagued hometown.

Early Life

Born in 1994, Wynkoop grew up in Davis' Grove Street neighborhood at the height of 1990s gang violence. His father Shaun Wynkoop was injured in a drive-by shooting when Jaxon was 10, fuelling his complex relationship with the community. As a teen he resisted local pressures to join gang life.

LSPD Career

After high school Wynkoop enrolled in the police academy, committed to helping the neighbourhood that raised him. His natural leadership abilities earned quick promotions to detective and eventually captain.

As captain Wynkoop restructured LSPD deployments towards more community policing to build trust. He also implemented implicit bias and de-escalation training for all officers. Crime rates noticeably dropped in Davis as a result.

Personal Life

Wynkoop resides in Northern Los Santos but frequently visits family still in Davis. He remains an approachable, hands-on presence patrolling streets and mentoring youth. Many see Wynkoop as the new face of a diversifying LSPD that better reflects the communities it serves.

SASP Characters

Colonel A. Kings

This article was originally written on Code 6 Roleplay, it may no longer be accurate on the newer Syndicate Reborn. This flag will be removed once it's confirmed it's accurate.

Default Page - This page was generated with a finetuned AI for a default page. Manual review is needed and this pages content may change at any time.

Colonel A. Kings is the commanding officer of the San Andreas State Police \(SASP\), holding the top rank in the statewide highway patrol and law enforcement agency.

With over 30 years service in the SASP, Kings oversees all operations, training, budgeting, and personnel matters for the organization. He leads a force of over 7,000 uniformed officers.

Background

Kings graduated top of his class from the San Andreas State Police Academy in 1987 at age 21. His sharp investigative skills and strong leadership were soon recognized with promotion to Detective just 5 years later.

Kings rose through the supervisory ranks over the next decades, earning praise for developing innovative policing strategies that reduced highway collisions and crime statewide. His ability to forge partnerships with diverse community organizations also stood out.

In 2014, Kings was appointed Assistant Chief, second only to the Colonel. When the Colonel retired in 2019, Kings was seen as the natural successor to take the helm of the SASP.

Policies as Colonel

As Colonel, Kings implemented significant policy changes:

- Establishing a de-escalation first use of force policy to reduce fatal shootings by officers.
- Expanding community and cultural awareness training at all levels of the organization.
- Creating programs to improve relations between police and minority groups.
- Increasing external oversight and accountability on officer conduct.

While some internally resisted reforms, Kings maintains building public trust and adapting to community needs is essential for the SASP mission.

His progressive leadership style balances maintaining officer safety with protecting citizens' rights during law enforcement actions. Kings remains focused on evolving police work for a just, inclusive society.

Adding your character to the directory

The Characters book prides itself on providing the most comprehensive and up-to-date directory. As new characters emerge and establish themselves as movers and shakers, the editors seek to add them to the list of Characters.

To submit your character for addition in the Characters directory, please reach out to W.Vick. You can direct message them on Discord with a brief description of your character and basic character details about them, if you have a backstory, that'll help a ton!

Alternatively, if you are already an editor, you are encouraged to use your own judgment to identify and profile new characters in San Andreas. When adding new profiles, please ensure they are constructed with the same rigor and depth as existing ones - collecting thorough background details.

Some tips for new character profiles:

- Aim for detailing their origins, major activities, spheres of influence and other background information
- Get creative with layouts - sidebars, call-out quotes, images etc.